Project Statement: Write a program to search a string entered by user from the array of string.

Project Description:

For the EmailId Validation first need to take input from users with the help of Scanner class.

Once the user will provide input then we have to check for the standard Email Id format ,and then if the Id provided by user matches with all the conditions then display the output as "True or False".